Meeting w/ Dean Mike
Bruno and I met with Dean Mike this week to discuss our agendas for the year and look ahead to future SLC meetings. Of particular interest is the renewed interest in the Board in the judicial role of RA’s. It will be an agenda item for the Campus Affairs Committee during the November Board meeting. We also discussed better publication of good samaritan policies to educate students about calling for an ambulance.

92 Theater Update
I met with Michelle Myers-Brown to discuss the recent firing of Ed Chilburis, manager of the ‘92 and the Chapel. We discussed how that role is going to be restructured in the coming weeks, how we can best serve Second Stage, and how to continue making the 92 a student-run space.

Work Study Fund
After conversations with several trustees, I will be forming a working group to examine work study policies concerning extracurricular activities at other schools and ways we can enable students to contribute to the community outside of standard work study roles.

Appointments (Brenner & Sadaii)

Academic Affairs
Chair: Rebecca Hutman

Library Projects:

The Chair met with the Head librarian to discuss the self-study of the library as well as the implementation of noise level signage in both Sci Li and Olin. To that end, the Chair is working with SAC to continue work on the signage project begun last year.

(Shout out to former SAC Chair, Kate Cullen, for all the work she did on this last year!)

Printer Project:
Angela Chung ‘18 is looking into the feasibility and student support for installing a printer in each dorm. She and Christie created a student survey. They are also working with ITS to understand the logistics and costs associate.

Intensive course model:

The Chair continued working on the proposal for the approval of the Intensie Course Model. The Chair shared relevant concerns that came up with in last weeks discussion with EPC and Professor Dierker. Thanks again for your input, GA!

Pre-Reg Pilot Program Assessment:

MVP Angela Chung ‘18 continued her work on assessing the success of the Frosh Pre-Reg pilot. She compiled a great list of questions that she we wants to ask YOU, freshmen, whether or not you took part in the pilot. I’ll be collecting a list of names during the meeting.

Uncle Sam wants YOU to join AAC:

AAC needs new members. If you have awesome friends, please tell them to apply through the appointments process. Contact me with any questions.

Fun fact: This week’s AAC meeting featured Chipotle!

Student Life

- The Student Life Committee met this Friday. We discussed the medical transports system and opened up a conversation about possibly amending to shift the costs away from students. Next time, Joyce Walter will be coming in to talk about the costs and the role of insurance companies.
- We also addressed the future of Greek program housing and Dean Mike gave an overview of the issue from an administrative perspective. We also discussing giving Beta brothers point boosts, the future of Beta as a program house, and the implications of co-education. We also touched upon the implications of not allowing freshman to rush and Dean Mike offer a compromise which allowed freshman to rush in their spring semester.
Me and Grant had a meeting with Dean Mike that served as a yearly overview. We talked about Greek houses, the judicial role of RAs, and medical transport policy.

Alcohol and Other Drugs
- We will be having a meeting tomorrow to discuss the BMI peer-to-peer program, deferential sanctioning, communications with students and newsletters, judicial tracking software, and orientation materials.

Fire Safety
- We will try to have a meeting this week to go over summer appeals and start the appeals process for the year.

Public Safety
- Me and Dean Mike will be meeting to acclimate the new PSafe director. There is also the possibility for him to come into GA to get the students perspective. There have also been concerns regarding his methods and his records at other universities.

Residential Life
- We will be having a meeting this week on Friday and we will be discussing a variety of things, including Greek program housing and point boosts and major maintenance requests.

Community Affairs
Chair: Lizzie Shackney

Official Meeting Time
Allbritton 113, Tuesday 9:30-10:30, with snacks usually.

New Student Group Approvals
This week, 9 new groups were approved. Bruno (in his role as WSA office worker) went through a list of unused smartkey numbers so that unused and underused numbers could be redistributed. Thanks Bruno!

Finding Our Purpose/Identity Crisis
CoCo is trying to figure out what its purpose is beyond the basics (i.e. approving student groups, answering e-mails, subcommittees). What can we do that student groups can't? SAC, AAC, and SuFFac include elements of community in all that they do, so what do we do differently from those groups? We're also planning on critically assessing the state of the community at Wesleyan. We'll challenge the norms and the status quo in order to alter our community for the better. We've been spending time addressing these existential crises.

Beyond the purpose of CoCo, we're planning on working with SBC to define and redefine what it means to be a student group.

Uniting and Reuniting Our Community
The topic that took up most of our meeting this week was the fact that there are very few opportunities for the whole campus or entire classes to get together. Anna Pezanoski-Cohen ’17 is interested in talking to Greek organizations about planning yearly benefit events, and will be doing a precedent study (e.g. THON, other campus-wide benefit experiences) to see if something can be planned for Wesleyan. More project ideas to be solidified this week.

Student Group of the Week
WesCream, a group dedicated to making cheese on campus, was approved this week.

Thing I Found on the Internet of the Week
Found in China.
TL;DR: walking was invented in Europe and it is “not only an exercise but also stands for a kind of attitude toward life.”

Official Meeting Time
Green Fund
Loam: the second issue of Loam, our campus’s only environmental magazine, will be coming soon!

Wes To Wes
The money has officially been transferred to the Raise The Cap Fund! For those of you who don’t know what that is, it’s an endowment that was created specifically for Financial Aid.

The Exley Project
Physical Plant has been looking into ways to make better use of the space on the first floor of Exley. They believe Wesleyan needs more social study spaces (like the ones in Usdan), and decided that Exley would be a great place to expand on this idea—Exley hasn’t been renovated since the early 70’s, also first floor of Exley is fugly and “sus”. The “renovation” would entail adding furniture, outlets and patches of carpet to create a more home-y feel.

They hope to finalize plans by the end of this month and complete the project by the end of Winter Break. They want our input, so heads up—they’ll probably be coming soon to share the floor plan with us and chat about how to make Exley, “sexlier”.

Cool Nature Thing
The International Highline Meeting festival is a festival that takes place in the Italian Alps. The “slackers” have a tradition of hanging out in hammocks dangling off of slacklines. Here are some photos to awe-inspire/traumatize you forever:
